

COMPOSTING

WITH NATHALIE TEIXEIRA

THE ART AND SCIENCE OF COMPOSTING

Plants have so much to teach us, and we are only at the start of this journey. Together with biological life teeming in the soil we can partner to achieve soil preservation, reduction in greenhouse gasses, increased crop fertility and rehabilitation of our natural landscapes and biomes.

Convert the Dirt's objective is to restore soil life, be it in your crop fields or urban garden. We support each other on the journey to growing beneficial, diverse networks in soil, bringing balance and fertility without dependence on purchased and chemical inputs. We are foremost guided by nature, which once observed, is the most patient of teachers. We will be sharing our knowledge with you during this workshop.
